

About us.

Headquartered in Canberra, ACT, Australia, Echo Consultancy Group is a communications and intelligence company with a global reach, that solely employs ex-Australian Special Forces communicators. Our company is principally engaged in the design, production, provision and conduct of detailed cellular network surveying and analysis, bespoke tactical communications training packages, emergency preparedness and security vulnerability assessments, tactical and technical site surveys, and counter drone/UAS planning and exploitation. We can and do provide these services at anytime, anywhere, and with limited notice.

Our Team.

In order to provide the best services to our customers, we only hire the best. All of our employees are decorated Australian Special Forces veterans with over 60 years collective experience in the military and 20 in private industry. Of those 60 years, we have spent over 10 on deployment throughout some of the most complex and austere environments on Earth. Our team includes SIGINT Specialists, Linguists, Intelligence Analysts, Network and Cyber Engineers, Joint Terminal Air Controllers, and NSA/ASD Certified Master Instructors. Every Echo employee has either an NV2 or PV Defence security clearance.
